FOR SALE-TO LET-ETC. POR SALE—AT A BARGAIN, ABOUT 1,000 acres of land in Placer county, at $3 per acre. The location of the land is about from three to six miles from the city of Auburn, between the North and Middle Forks of the American river. A portion of this land can be cultivated; the balance will make a good cattle range. There is a house on it, and about two acres inclosed with a good fence, containing mostly young olive trees set out last year. There are plenty of springs on the land, and an abundance of water for the irrigation of the orchard. The altitude of this land is about the same as Auburn. The title to the land is from the C. P. R. R. C., and is perfect. There is considerable timber of all kinds on the land. It is also one of the healthiest places in the county—no sever and ague to plague you. Also, plenty of roads through and around it. For further particulars inquire of W. C. LYONS, at the North Fork Bridge. Terms of payment: One-half cash down, the balance one year's time at seven per cent, per annum. If not sold within thirty days, then the property will be rented to some industrious family.

The City Fathers Appear to Have Made a Grand Mistake. Los Angeles, January 14th.—After the City Council fixed the tax levy for city expenses last spring, they found they had made a miscalculation, and that the amount levied would not be sufficient by fifty thousand or more dollars. They accordingly made a raise of 20 per cent, on the assessment of all property in the business center of the city.

There was unanimous objection to this ips, one of the wealthiest citizens,

Citizens testi-fied that they had had no notice to appear before the Board of Equalization. Other said they had notice, but at the time cite to appear there was no quorum, and that the members that were present said the Council would grant no relief, as the city needed the money.

A number came, but the Council stood by its action and denied their protests.

When the time came to pay the taxes several taxpayers tendered the Collector cash for the amount of tax, less the raise of 20 percent., and demanded a receipt infull, which was refused by Tax Collecte

All the testimony introduced went to show that the raise was premeditated, and that the Council did not intend to grant relief to the protestants when called before the Board. If the injunction is granted, it will place

LOS ANGELES' STREETS. Her New Charter Is Not Exactly What

She Wanted. Les Angeles, January 14th.—There is hardly a city of any size in the State of California but has trouble over street work, owing to the fact of the State law govern ing such improvements. This city has been in a questionable situation for some time from the fact of the conflict of the Vrooman Act with the new city charter. During the late flood private bridges and driveways over the gutters throughout the city turned the course of the water from the gutters to the center of the street, washing the latter badly and causing many housand dollars of damages. The Street Superintendent issued an order that all bridges must be taken up. The property owners did not comply, consequently the street force are driving about the city tearing up all private driveways over gutters. Yesterday the City Council passed a resolution asking the Street Superintendent to desist. The latter was seen to-day and says he will not comply, as him the sole judge of what obstructions to WANT MORE TABIFF. Appeals of Manufacturers to the Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, January 14th.—Before the Ways and Means Committee to-day James Campbell, representing the window-glass manufacturers, asked for the restoration of Britton Richardson, a New Jersey silk manufacturer, wanted a duty of 50 per cent. instead of 20 per cent. imposed upon silk hat trimmings. He complained of the recent decision of the Supreme Court, declaring silk ribbons used exclusively for hat trimming dutiable at 20 per cent.

State Senator Griggs, of New Jersey, said the silk trade regarded this decision as the most serious assault ever sustained by it.

Chairman McKinley said he would call the attention of the committee to the matter and if consent was secured would take er, and if consent was secured would take up this proposition immediately, as a CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, January 14th—Among the bills sported from committees and passed on the alendar were the following: To declare unlawful trusts and combinations to ratify and confirm title to certain rallwillands in Florida, so that the alleged frauds, sa Plumb, were to be condoned under certain cicumstances. In his speeches the Senator, he said had been always in the habit of impugnit Senators covertly, or openly, and he (Plumhad sometimes been inclined to reply to him but only to convict him of falsehood.

Call replied to Plumb. He said: "I will me moved, Mr. President, by this extraordinar example of the Senator from Kansas, to follow his bad manners, nor his contemptible method. He cannot have a poorer opinion of me than have for the Senator from Kansas. I have no been in the habit of violating the decorum debate and discussion, but if the Senator think by his idle bravado, by his defiance of this vas spoilation of the public domain in the interest of those who have profited by it, that he can intimidate me from defending the rights of the people of my State, I treathim with the scorn and contempt that he deserves. My position is well-known in relation to the question in the State of Florida. The Senator from Kansas. By their side, he would sink into insignificance. The statements of the Senator in relation to their violation of trust are entirely untrue, and as Chairman of the Comittee on Public Lands (which has invisitions). Senator in relation to their violation of trust ar entirely untrue, and as Chairman of the Committee on Public Lands (which has jurisdiction over the matter) he should be ashamed not to be teter informed in regard to these special cin cumstances. It is disreputable to the Senate. I should not have as Chairman of that committee a Senator who not only defends the interest of boodlers, but shows his ignor noe of the sulject specially committed to him. All the Senator has said about the Legislature of Florida i utterly false and untrue, and has been said to the purpose of making an attack against me."

Having made a statement as to the grants if Florida for railway purposes, and under the swamp land law, Call proceeded: "If the thing he says were true, and if I were as bad a man a he is, as wain a man as he is, even if I were he say's were true, and if I were as bad a man as he is, as vain a man as he is; even if I were all he is himself, and all he says I am, still it would remain true that a number of people have been deprived of their rights on these lands."

Dolph, as a member of the Committee on Public Lands, made an explanation and justification on the act of that committee in the last Congress in its report on the resolution of Call's on the same subject, and Call disclaimed kaving made, or attempted to make, the slightest imputation on that committee.

Without action on the resolution the Senate, a ter an executive session adjourned.

THE OFFICE OF THE BOSS.

The disclosures made by the publication of the now celebrated Dudley letter, and the discussions of that letter, have thrown the use of a boss in politics. It may be remarked in passing, that Dudley at first denied the authorship of the letter, claiming that it was a forgery, and brought suit against certain newspapers for the publication of the letter and the allegation that he was the author; but he has not, and will not, press those suits. The worst feaure of this whole case is that there are people to apologize for the contents of the United States District Attorney for Indiable, and indicated only a patriotic interest | without doubt. Since its first publication in the election.

the Administration in giving him an office, to some disclosures of political methods, as common in California as in Indiana. An individual of the corruptible element in Indiana is called a floater, and political parties have made careful estimates of the volume of this floating vote. A floater is one who must be paid for his vote. They organize themselves into clubs of fifty or a hundred. In some instances, in closely contested municipalities, a few of these clubs constitute the balance of power. They thus work up a high price for their votes. The boss's man, who handles the money of a precinct, organizes these voters, and sees to it that they vote the Republican or the Democratic ticket, there being no difference whatever between the two parties in their disposition to use this corruptible element. The estimated volume of this venal element, according to poll-book makers, varies from a minimum of twenty to a maximum of thirty thousand; striking an average between these two estimates, we have twenty-five thousand. Thus the use of a very large sum of money in politics in Indiana will make a difference of fifty thousand votes; that is to say, twenty-five thousand off from the Democratic and on to the Republican side of the contest opens a margin of fifty thousand, or vice versa, as the case may be. Any wealthy scoundrel, whose scheme of rapacity and plunder requires that he shall be elected Governor of a State, may put money enough into the hands of a boss to control this venal element, and thus the office of a boss | Painter had gone with Elder Hunt to the house of Ralph Divins to visit Miss Amanda is brought into clear relief. He is one who has, through numerous lieutenants, made a business of ascertaining who con trol the venal element, how much it costs to handle and control it, and through

In the city of San Francisco this floater vote is estimated at seven thousand. Hence the control of that vote is equal to a margin of fourteen thousand, or very much more than the difference between the relative strength of the two parties Here in Sacramento, if the purchasable element equals five hundred, it would constitute the balance of power. Through constitute the balance of power. Is it any wonder, then, that Brice, a citizen of New York, finding a vacancy in the office of United States Senator for the State of Ohio, goes down to Columbus and the Democratic caucus? SCHOOL OF DESIGN.

Awarding Free Scholarships-An Opportunity to Aid Worthy Ambition. Some three weeks ago the late Bric-a-Brac Club in disorganizing gave to the Ladies' Museum Association nearly $300, mother of Washington. in trust for the endownment of free scholarships in the Sacramento School of Design at the City Art Gallery. To that sum the Ladies' Museum Association added something over $200 for the same purpose. by the 10th inst. A large number did so, and from the lists the Directory of the Association selected twelve names of those most likely to be benefited, and so situated as not able to secure the benefits of the school without aid. These were notified to appear at the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery yesterday, and hear the regulations adopted by which three are to be chosen from all, as beneficiaries of the fund.

Six accepted the invitation under the agreement, if chosen, to go through a thorough course of study, probably for three years, or even more. One of them, a resident of Placerville, Miss Weatherwax, was at once entered as a pupil under the trust, her qualifications being known, as she had once been a pupil of the school. The other five were notified to attend for a few weeks, all their expenses for materials being paid, meanwhile, by the Ladies' Associa-tion. After they have been in the school two weeks, or perhaps three, two will be chosen as recipients of the scholarships, their tuition being guaranteed for three years, subject to good behavior and development of ability. The three to be retired. will, if found to possess ability, be recom-mended as worthy to be recipients of the 1886, of murder in the second degree, from gift of scholarships from some other institu-tion, or some person of means willing to contribute to this worthy educational work.

It is to be hoped that some one will be moved to put up $500 and secure to three the privileges of the school. The California Museum Association has made special and very advantageous terms for such endowments, and by which the sum named may be made the means of educating in designing three pupils for three and a third years, or two for five years, or one each year for ten years, or five for two years. The privilege is given in this arrangement of substituting one for another in case of death, refrom Hon. Frank McGowan, Judge J. P moval or incompetency.

It will be a very regretful task for the Ladies' Association to notify three of the five who entered yesterday that they must retire, but it will be done unless some great-hearted person, or a group of persons, comes forward and secures the three their chairs in the school. As no one now throws who of the contentants will seem to the contentant will seem to the contentant will seem to the contentant will seem to the content to t knows who of the contestants will remain the names of the whole are withheld in ommon justice. It may not be generall known that one prominent citizen has for two years regularly paid the tuition for one scholar in the school, and that his pupil, whom he does not even know, has done his benevolence great honor, and is to-day earning a fair sum by designing in a county not far distant from this eity.
Yesterday there arrived at the school from San Diego Miss Ida Frick, who has ability and is determined to win, and to that end chose the Sacramento School. To pay her tuition this young lady works cer-tain hours of the day for the requisite sup-port. It is of such material as this that successful scholars are developed. There are pupils still in the school who, in order oy the advantages, have worked extra hours and at night to maintain themselves for two years past, and in all cases such pupils have succeeded in their desires. All these facts are gleaned from conversa- Harlow paid the fine promptly. tion with officers of the School of Design and the Art Instructor. There might added to them others equally interesting did space permit. The school opened its fifth year on the first Monday in this month and with a gratifying attendance. The Saturday class, established for the ben-efit of school-teachers and pupils in the number of scholars and teachers in the public schools is taken into account.

COSTLY PROCRASTINATION. A Bridge Over the Mokelumne That Can not be Utilized.

The matter of improving the extension of the lower Stockton road, beyond Franklin, leading to the new bridge across the Mokelumne river at Benson's Ferry, is again being agitated by the residents in the southwestern end of the county. It will be remembered that a couple of years since the Boards of Supervisors of Sacramento and San Joaquin counties jointly paid for the expense of constructing the bridge, which Van Fleet's Court, to appear on Monday was intended to "fill a long-felt want" in February 3d. that vicinity.

The approach to the bridge from either side was, however, such that it could be people on both sides of the river. On the San Joaquin side a movement has been started for the improvement of the road from Stockton to the junction of the Woodbridge and old Telegraph roads. Farmers are offering to furnish teams, and business men of Stockton, who want trade from the northern end of the county, promise to subscribe for a fund to be expended in the subscribe for a fund to be expe work. Supervisor Carson will direct the work, and cover the road with sand so dee that mud will not be seen for many years matter, and say that the improvement will

If the proposed improvement should be carried out, and the Sacramento side left without a good roadway from the bridge to the high ground on this side, the resul would be the diversion to Stockton or other San Joaquin towns a large trade that would naturally flow in this direction. Land-owners in the vicinity of the bridge last Landsummer formally tendered the Supervisors of this county the right of way for a road across their lands from the lower Stockton road to the bridge, and the members of the Board seemed to be unanimous in the desire to aid in the construction of such a

Now that the San Joaquin people are moving in the matter, it behoves Sacramento county to get in and do something part of the county are ready to lend their assistance in the matter, and some definite movement should be made. As it is, the fine bridge is useless except for summer travel, and even then it is a difficult mat-ter to reach it from this side.

TEE CAUSE OF IT. A Man's Presence Creates Trouble in

Once Happy Camp. On Sunday afternoon a little affair oc surred in the "Coffee Parlors," on K street, between Fifth and Sixth, that gave rise to in Galt of obtaining money under false pre ssues which will probably have to be settled in Court. The place was opened some months ago by Miss Emma Peters, who Feutziing, it seems, has been a frequent visitor at his wife's place of business, and called there on Sunday last. Miss Peters says he had been too meddlesome with the affairs of the place, and told him, as he was about to go into the kitchen, that his presence was objectionable to her, and that the would no longer tolerate his insults According to her story, he pushed his way past her and went out the rear door, but soon returned and hung about the place, until she (not being quite an angel) ost her temper and made a demonstrati as if to force him out the door. At this she says, he struck her with a bottle, inflictng a severe wound on her head. In tryng to ward off the blow she threw up hand, which came in contact with Fentz-Feutzling claims, on the other hand, that the way he happened to hit Miss Peters | Reds vs. Blues. with the bottle was in throwing up his hand to ward off a blow she had aimed at him. He couldn't help it if he happened to have a bottle in his hand and it should ccidentally hit his assailant's head.

A rescause be submitted upon argument and urer, brought to recover interest on pastdue coupons. It will be remembered that Judge Hunt decided in favor of the city, and that such interest was not collectable.

> This is an important victory for the city, the return of a certain amount of money as in three years more interest will cease alleged to have been collected from them on $400,000 more of bonds. Then there will be no more inducement for the bond-owners to hold on to them for high figures, as the city need be in no haste to pay them. The result of this decision will, it is hought, be to save the city about half million dollars.

To Out-of-Town

We value to the utmost our out-of-town postoffice acquaintances. Uncle Sam is our hard-working ally, and we have no disposition to make his tasks lighter. He grumbles a little during the busy seasons when an avalanche of mail orders flood his office here, but that matters little, so long as you receive your goods on time. In these days of electricity and steam it is luxury to be an out-of-town shopper. No jostling, no confusion—a Catalogue, pen and ink, and you receive as much attention as your city friend. The Catalogue is a great help—a silent salesman, perhaps the best. You may know, for instance, that you want ten yards of Cashmere for a gown, but the Catalogue reminds of linings and other accessories at such a saving in price that your postage is a cipher. Then it illustrates a new trimming which takes your fancy, and your Cashmere gown develops into a stylish affair, quite impossible in village shopping. By a systematic turning of its pages other necessaries confront you, which might as well be ordered one time as another, saving time and money, too.

Our present Catalogue is fuller of illustrations than any previous one. We think seeing things as they are is a help. A two-inch illustration tells more about a lace pattern or a man's hat than we could explain in

The book is sent free to any out-of-town address. Samples of Dress Goods, Embroidery, Laces, etc., are sent when specially desired.

"Judge Wing saggested that the defendants were prejudiced by not having been granted a separate trial, yet the trial disproves this, because the theory generally accepted by the public and urged by the State that a conspiracy was formed in Camp 20 was not accepted by the jury, as shown by the acquittal of Beggs. As to the jury, of course it is more satisfactory to the trial Judge to have a jury of men absolutely without opinion as to the merits and this course was followed:
